Lt. Col. Scott Snyder of the Pennsylvania State Police testified approximately 2-3 percent of the fingerprints the state submits to the FBI for the National Instant Criminal Background Check System are returned. SUREPRINT

APPLICATION

This topical compound, when applied to the finger tips or individual's palm, enhances those specific ridge details sought after in the fingerprint or palm print process.

SurePrint fingerprint enhancer is compatible with all digital imaging surfaces as well as traditional ink and card detection methods. The fingerprinting processes are dramatically improved by the enhanced definition of the reduced ridge detail. Unreadable or rejected fingerprints by any current method occurs with a 2-3% incidence as reported by the head of the Pennsylvania State Police. In Pennsylvania alone that equals 400 to 500 sets of prints a month. SurePrint will overwhelmingly reduce rejection rates. Our product is currently found in more than 100 law enforcement organizations nationwide.

SOLUTION

SurePrint has been specifically developed to address diminished fingerprint ridges by enhancing print ridge detail.
